Staff Notes: _____

Please read the following carefully:

Once the application is completed and Giving4Pets reviews the application, we will schedule a home visit and review the application, that is the first step.

The second step can take some time and additional visits or interviews may be scheduled. The reason for this is because Giving4Pets will coordinate with several foster organization with regards to your interest in becoming a foster parent to abandoned, scared, innocent beautiful animals that need a safe place until they find their new home.

Giving4Pets is dedicated to the foster family, we understand that typically the foster family is a 100% responsible for providing all food, litter, bedding, and toys for the animal while it is in their care at home. And, the foster parents are responsible for transporting the animals to and for veterinary appointments, surgery, behavior evaluations, vaccinations, etc., The foster parent may also be responsible for transporting the animal to and from adoption events, and to off-site training classes, etc. This can get overwhelming..

Giving4Pets understands the cost and time associated with fostering animals, which is why we will do everything we can to work with you, help you and financially support the pet(s) needs, not just limited to food! Once you have been approved to foster animals through one of our partners, Giving4Pets will meet with all parties and discuss all assistance needed or if it may be the case that the new foster family is “not” in need of any assistance beyond this application process.

I have read and understand the statements above. I certify that all the information contained in this application is true and correct. I understand that although Giving4Pets takes reasonable care to screen potential foster care applicants, it makes no guarantees.

I/We acknowledge that Giving4Pets does is not responsible for any property damage or personal injury suffered by me, members of my household, including my own animals, or any third parties during a foster placement, and I assume liability to provide adequate controls to prevent such damage or injury.
